Since we have multiple warehouse locations, your order may be delivered in multiple boxes. On shipments originating from one of our warehouses located in the United States, please allow 48 hours for processing time in addition to transit time for the product to arrive. If your order is coming from one of our off-shore warehouses, please allow 5 days to process and deliver to our United States or European shipping point; please add U.S. transit time as well to determine when the product will arrive. You are only responsible for the cost of transportation within the United States.

If the price or availability information we've provided you does not meet your immediate needs, please either contact one of our distributor partners or request a quotation from ADI using the Request Quote button above.
